

BRISTOL SOCIETY

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BRISTOL, VA., March 3.—Mrs. M. B. Wood is spending a few weeks with relatives near Winston-Salem, N. C. Her husband, Judge Wood, meanwhile is spending some time at Hot Springs, Ark.

L. S. Jones and E. K. Cymbale are spending a few days in New York city. Mrs. Cox, wife of Governor Cox, has been with Bristol relatives for more than a week, having spent most of the time with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Butler.

Judge and Mrs. S. L. Chennutt, of Rogersville, were in Bristol a part of the week, being guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lamotte, on Anderson Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade R. Carmack entertained Senator Edward Carmack at a six-o'clock dinner one evening while he was in Bristol the past week.

J. D. Gardner, who has been connected with one of the leading department stores of Bristol for three years, left this week for Gainesville, Fla., where he expects to make his future home.

J. Milton Hodge left Bristol on Monday night for Cuba, where he will remain until spring. He expects to travel over considerable of the island.

Misses Ella and Nellie Burke, who were called to West Virginia, Va., on account of the serious illness of their grandmother, have returned to school at Virginia Institute.

Miss Cynthia Bausell, of St. Paul, Va., was the guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Munger.

J. W. Owen, former treasurer of Bristol, Va., has returned to his home here, after having spent two months with relatives at Tampa, Fla. He also visited other parts of the State.

Miss Bettie King, who was here on a visit to her brother, John T. King, during his illness, has returned to Washington, D. C.

Miss Alice Fain is visiting her brother, Will Fain, in New York city.

Miss Lynn Mitchell is spending two weeks in New York city.

Misses Bessie and Mary Brewer left this week for Nashville, where they will spend some time with relatives and friends.

Miss Margaret Preston, of Seven Mile Ford, Va., was a visitor to Bristol this week.

Miss Emma Ashworth, of Meadow View, Va., visited in Bristol this week.

Mrs. J. M. Ashworth and her pretty daughter, Miss Maggie, were, as usual, relatives at Meadow View, Va., this week.

Mrs. Mary Griffith and Miss Inez Griffith, of Big Stone Gap, Va., were guests of Mrs. Dunn, on Third Street.

Mrs. J. M. Barker has returned from Gate City, Va., where she spent several weeks on account of her mother being ill, as the result of a fall by which she broke one of her limbs.

Mrs. C. I. Sevier and her daughter, Mrs. Harry Shotton, left this week for Tampa, Fla., where they will remain with friends for a month or more.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Cump are at home from California, where they have been for months. They were at Los Angeles and Pasadena most of the time, and on the way home stopped at several places in the Middle West. Their sojourn in the Far West was very pleasant.

Captain A. S. McNeill is at home from Spanish Florida, where he spent two months hunting and fishing. As usual, he had out his big hook for sharks in the Gulf of Mexico, and was successful. Several sharks were caught at Sanibel, on the Gulf coast, this winter, the largest of which measured about twelve feet.

Dr. James I. Vance, of Newark, N. J., was here this week to visit his parents, Colonel and Mrs. Charles R. Vance. Dr. Vance was on his way to Nashville to attend the International meeting of Y. M. C. A. workers. He will stop here on his return home.

Dr. J. T. Henderson and Misses Owen and Stokely, of Virginia Institute, and Major and Mrs. A. D. Reynolds left this week for Nashville to attend the International Y. M. C. A. meeting.

Mrs. A. C. Aldrich entertained the "19-Book Club" on Thursday afternoon. Dainty refreshments were served.

At the Williams residence, on Taylor Street, a few days ago there was an interesting birthday celebration in honor of the birthday anniversary of John T. Williams, the third. The little fellow is a grandson of John T. Williams, the New York millionaire. There were present at the celebration a number of mothers with their little ones. The occasion was very much enjoyed.

Mrs. Rhea, wife of former Congressman William F. Rhea, has returned from Bluefield, W. Va., where she spent some time as the guest of her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Goodknight.

Mrs. Samuel V. Fulkerson is the guest of friends in Chicago.

Miss Mary Zea Slack has resigned her position as teacher in the city schools at Johnson City, Tenn., and has returned to her home here, to be with her mother.

Lexington Society

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LEXINGTON, VA., March 3.—Mr. Thos. J. Rice, for the past twenty years connected with the McCrum Drug Company, has accepted a position in Roanoke and left Thursday with Mrs. Rice and their two children for his new home. Mr. Rice for the past nine years has filled the position of manager and head pharmacist.

Mrs. Bopple, of Baltimore, a former well-known visitor in Lexington, as Miss Lella Ball, is announced to give a song recital at the chapel of Washington and Lee University Tuesday evening, March 6th. She possesses a remarkably sweet contralto voice, and her singing delights her audiences wherever she appears. Her accompanist will be Miss Nell Irvine, of Charlottesville, formerly of Lexington.

Mrs. John H. Latane was called to

Tumors Conquered Without Operations

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Cases of Mrs. Fox and Miss Adams.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by excessive monthly periods accompanied by unusual pain extending from the abdomen through the groin and thighs.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation; secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once and begin its use and write Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Read these strong letters from grateful women who have been cured:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—(First Letter.) "In looking over your book I see that your medicine cures Tumors. I have been to a doctor and he tells me I have a tumor. I will be more than grateful if you can help me, as I do so dread an operation."—Fannie D. Fox, Bradford, Pa.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—(Second Letter.) "I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine."

"Eighteen months ago my periods stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly I was unable to do a thing. I was examined by a physician, and was told that I had a tumor and would have to undergo an operation."

"I soon after read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After taking five bottles as directed, the tumor is entirely gone. I have again been examined."

Washington, D. C., several days ago on account of the illness of her sister, Mrs. Trezevant Williams, who is suffering from an attack of pneumonia.

Rev. Dr. William E. Laird, of Danville, Va., who spent the past week in Staunton, assisting the Rev. Dr. Frazier in a meeting at the First Presbyterian Church, spent several days in Lexington this week, visiting his brother-in-law, Mr. Paul M. Perick.

Miss Pearl Virginia Rhodes left Lexington a few days ago for Atlanta, Ga., where she will spend a month visiting her brother, Mr. Ernest L. Rhodes, who is a prominent wholesale merchant of that city.

Miss Ethel Pike, of Washington, D. C., is the guest of Miss Nell Brockebrough at Hotel Lexington.

Dr. B. W. Hampton, of Chicago, Ill., a well-known lecturer, occupied the pulpit of Trinity Methodist Church last Sunday evening.

My regret is expressed in Lexington that Major Lewis H. Strother, commandant of cadets at the Virginia Military Institute, has been ordered by the War Department to be relieved from his present duty July 1st next and join his regiment, the Twenty-eighth United States Infantry.

BUCHANAN, VA.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BUCHANAN, VA., March 3.—The Stone-wall Chapter, U. D. C., gave a novel entertainment at the Town Hall Friday, 2d of March, called a box party, the proceeds for the benefit of the Confederate Woman's Memorial at Richmond.

Numberless boxes filled with dainty lunches, enough for two in each box, and were sold at moderate prices, the name of the donor in each box, and the buyer was supposed to share the contents with the lady whose name was found inside.

The Virginia Can Company will open March 6th with even better prospects than even. The president, Mr. O. C. Huff, man, has just returned from many of the larger cities, and is much encouraged by the general outlook and bright future of this Virginia plant. The capacity is one hundred and twenty thousand cans per day, and the output for this season will be not less than twelve million cans.

Miss Annie Stone gave a very pretty card party Thursday night, which was much enjoyed by all present.

Dr. R. A. Latane spent several days in Richmond this week.

Mrs. A. G. Preston visited Mrs. William R. Beale this week.

Miss Lucy Beale is still in New York. The people in this section are much interested in the Jamestown Exposition. The fact that the Hon. H. St. George Tucker is at the helm gives much confidence in the success of the enterprise.

Mr. Tucker is much loved in Botetourt,

Roanoke Society

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ROANOKE, VA., March 3.—With the beginning of the Lenten season, and one of the liveliest winter social seasons that Roanoke has seen for years. The delightful, mild winter had much to do with it. The worst weather of the winter set in just as the season was coming to its end, and there were but few entertainments on the last days.

One of the most brilliant events of the closing week was a six-hour euchre party, given by Mrs. Malcolm Bryan, at her handsome home on Commerce Street, Wednesday, in honor of Mrs. Claudius Marston nee Elizabeth Jolliffe, one of the most popular young brides of the winter. Mrs. Bryan was assisted in receiving by Miss W. H. London, Miss Louise Bryan, and Mrs. Robert G. Johnston. The party was from 3:30 to 6, and there were eight tables. One of the ladies is authority for the statement that never before were so many handsomely gowned women seen at an entertainment in Roanoke.

One of the most elegant entertainments of the season was a colonial style given by Mrs. Charles Chancellor Wentworth, at her beautiful home on Jefferson Street, last Thursday. The entire lower floor was decorated with the national colors, flags, flowers and colored lights. Mrs. Wentworth received her guests, assisted by Mrs. Malcom Bryan, Mrs. Frank Hill and Mrs. Elton. The guests were invited to the dining-room by Mrs. D. W. Richards, where they were received by Mrs. Pickwick, who was assisted by Miss Lula Terry, Miss Jamerson and Misses Huger.

The centre-table decorations were most exquisite and artistic. The national colors being worked in a mound of flowers. American Beauty roses, white carnations and blue violets. The refreshments were delicious and novel, the laces representing a tree trunk, with souvenir hatched stick in them, while the colors were also carried out in the cakes and candies.

Mrs. Claudius Marston gave the last of her series of receptions on Friday afternoon from 3 to 6. She was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Rockingham Paul and Mrs. Malcom Bryan. Misses Huger and Wingfield served refreshments.

On Saturday night the young ladies of Virginia had their annual state frolic.

It was the Colonial Ball, in which half the girls were transformed into young men of that period, and the other half belles. It opened with a grand march, followed by the minuet and other dances.

These balls are for ladies only, and it is rarely that one outside of the college gets a peep at the dancers. No expense is spared in getting up the costumes, and the scene is said to be beautiful beyond description.

Friday night the musical students of the college gave a brilliant recital.

What Lent is on the theatrical season for the city, two new promises to be very lively, with attractions booked for every night at the Academy.

KING GEORGE AFFAIRS

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
COMORN, KING GEORGE CO., VA., March 3.—The Town Council of Colonial Beach have engaged the services of Mr. C. S. York, a civil engineer of Baltimore, to make a survey of the grounds and estimate the cost of a first-class sewer system for that town. It had been arranged for this preliminary work to be done while Hon. George Mason, a resident of the town, was present, but Mr. York will have to come before the General Assembly, of which Mr. Mason is a member, adjourns.

Mr. P. T. Watson, of Colonial Beach, has gone to Washington to engage in business.

Payne & Company, of this county, are sawing and shipping to Baltimore two hundred thousand feet of scantling for a firm in that city.

Dr. James H. Ball, who went to Richmond some weeks ago to care for his home, has returned to King George, slightly improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Rogers and little son, Willard, have returned to Washington, after spending a week here.

Charles T. Taylor, of the Northern Neck this month, and is booked for a service at Colonial Beach and one at Oak Grove about the 18th instant.

Mr. Henry A. Mason, a veteran traveling salesman, was here this week, and was warmly greeted by hosts of old friends.

Mr. Galen R. Smith is getting lumber for the purpose of laying a splendid floor on the bridge of his elegant new wharf at the "Cottages" landing, on the Potomac.

Tuesday's blizzard and the hard weather that followed caused a suspension of all business in the rural regions. Great drifts or heaps of snow made the highways almost impassable at some points. Some whose houses were empty, and who had abandoned all hope of filling them this season, harvested 3-inch ice on Thursday, March 1st, and because of the recent "spell" of ground-hog weather, nearly all the ice-houses are now full.

MILLWOOD NEWS

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
MILLWOOD, VA., March 3.—Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Edwards, of St. Louis, Mo., who spent a few days with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mullikin, at Page Brook, left for their home on Monday, accompanied by Miss Ethel O'Fallon, also of St. Louis, who has been with her sister, Mrs. Mullikin, at Page Brook, for the past several months.

Mr. Peter H. Mayo, who was recently confined to his house, with an injured leg, is out and about again.

Mr. Graham F. Blandy, of New York, who has been spending some time at his home in the country home, "The Tulliver," near Boyce, his horse becoming frightened and unmanageable, was thrown from his trap and slightly cut about the head. Dr. Randolph rendered the needed surgical treatment.

Mr. F. B. Whiting, who has been very sick for some weeks, is much better and will soon be out again.

Miss Mary P. Lee, who was injured in a driving accident some time ago, is improving very rapidly.

BIG STONE GAP, VA.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BIG STONE GAP, VA., March 3.—The big attraction this week was "The Old Folks' Concert" rendered by home talent at Tech Hall. The entertainment was given for the benefit of building fund of the Baptist Church, and a large crowd was in attendance. The program consisted of the old style polka, with long trains; also, old time jewelry and powdered hair. The gentlemen wore knee-pants, slippers with bows of ribbon, powdered wigs and lace.

The costumes were beautiful, and when the curtain raised, "all ye singers," twenty in number, presented a spectacle of olden times that would have commanded the admiration of Washington's army. The program consisted of old-time ballads, solos, choruses, duets, quartets and instrumental solos, and as a whole, was well-rendered.

Miss Lettie Goodloe, of Abing, Va., sang "Judith" and "Last Rose of Summer," which was a great treat for those who were fortunate enough to hear her. Miss Goodloe is a talented singer, and possesses a most beautiful and highly cultivated voice.

Miss Mary P. Lee, of "Happy Days," was rendered by Miss Burgess, another sweet singer from old Virginia. Among many other good renditions were solos by Mrs. J. F. Bullitt, Mrs. L. O. Pettit, Miss Cummins Bullitt, Dr. Larry, Mr. Joseph Potter and J. M. Goodloe. The violin solo by Miss Larry was a leading feature. The most decided hit was made by Mr. J. M. Goodloe, negro impersonator, in his characteristic style. His old darkey songs, "Old Black Joe" and "I'm Getting Old and Fable" brought down the house, but not until his last piece, a recitation entitled "Born to See Evil," did the applause reach its highest pitch and the audience become almost frantic with laughter. After the programme was concluded the young ladies were served by a bevy of young ladies dressed as pretty colonial maidens.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fox, who have been in Louisville, Ky., for the past two months, returned to Big Stone Gap Sunday morning, where they will remain for a couple of weeks.

Miss Jerush, a popular young lady of Afton, Va., is visiting relatives and friends in Big Stone Gap. Miss Goodloe is a sister of Goodloe Bros., merchants of this place, and has many friends here.

STAUNTON, VA.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
STAUNTON, VA., March 3.—The Tan Alpha Society, composed of Misses Sarah and Sue Robertson, Anne and Sue Belle, Louise Little, Emily Panckake, Lou Fauntleroy, Melville Bolling, Mary Hutchison and Lucy Bowles, entertained a number of their friends at their club-room Wednesday evening. A number of young gentlemen were present.

The young gentlemen of the week gave a delightful program in honor of the young ladies of Staunton. Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Henkel and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tyler acted as chaperons.

Miss Little Moore entertained her friends Thursday afternoon at Hotel Frederick, in honor of the debutantes.

Mr. James R. Taylor went to Richmond Thursday.

Miss Elizabeth Fisher has returned from Richmond, where she visited relatives.

Mr. Michael Kilvighan went to Richmond Thursday to attend a meeting of the State Millers' Association.

Capt. T. C. Morton has returned from Richmond.

Mr. F. F. Allen, of Baltimore, is spending a few days with Colonel and Mrs. S. Brown Allen here.

Mr. Churchill Gibson, of Richmond, has been spending a short time with the family of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Robertson.

CREWE SOCIAL

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CREWE, VA., March 3.—A social was given by Miss Nettie Moore's Sunday school class at her home Monday night. There was a large crowd in attendance and much interest manifested in the beautifully decorated boxes, the unknown contents of which whetted the appetites and depleted the purses of many a maiden.

A delightful programme was rendered, consisting of recitations, readings and music. Mr. Marvin Lumpkin and wife, of Richmond, were among the guests.

Bishop Randolph conducted services at the Episcopal Church Monday night, confirmed Miss Ruth Smithson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Smithson, and Miss Martha Hughes, whose parents live just a short distance from here.

Mr. John Chappell, who has been spending the winter with his son, Mr. J. Sims

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is In Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectively clears and improves the complexion, it cleanses the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels and prevents the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but the best is the one in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow bark, and other valuable ingredients in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the best way possible to keep the bowels free from their continued use, but, on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to the chief of the family, to put the breath, mouth and throat."

Also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they coat the bowels with a soft, healthy lining, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets.

Taxo
Acts like a parachute—it "lets you down easily." It is a pure, harmless, vegetable liver medicine; exactly what nature demands. Sold by all druggists at 35c Per Bottle.
